Foreword

As we close the door upon each completed day and step happily into the next, only a small part of the joys and sorrows of that day manage to slip over the transom to remind us that it ever existed. As time passes, these memories weaken in their efforts to maintain pace with the excitement of today and tomorrow. Often we find ourselves struggling to remember a certain date, a specific place, or a distinct face. In an effort to alleviate some of the forgetfulness of human nature and to prolong the enjoyment of certain events, the annual staff has compiled for you a book of memories. Our taskmasters were ourselves, always the most perfecting critics; our hours, any free minutes that we could find and some that just appeared of themselves. Our wages were the satisfaction we derived from a job well-done and the anticipation of the joy you would receive from our efforts. Thus, we present to you the 1963 edition of LE PETIT SOUVENIR!

Dedication

For her many years of outstanding service to our school - for her innumerable hours and endless energy expended in our behalf - and for the immeasurable benefits we have derived from her labors, we, the staff of LE PETIT
SOUVENIR, proudly dedicate the 1963 edition to Mrs.
Odile Gill.

Principal's Message

It is a distinct honor and a privilege for me to have the opportunity to be your principal at Southeastern High School. I come to you with a confident feeling that we can continue and expand the fine work which has always prevailed in this school.

Especially gratifying to me is the manner in which you have taken me into your school and made me a part of your lives. This acceptance has not only made my work here easier, but much more enjoyable and for this I give you my heartfelt thanks.

I would like to take this means of expressing my appreciation to the annual staff for a job well done. This yearbook is a storehouse of treasured memories of which I am sure you will always be justly proud.

For the graduates of 1963, I could wish nothing better than a life of happiness and purposeful living influenced by the social, educational, and spiritual values which you have cultivated here.

May God bless you!

Sincerely,

Clarence E. Golemon

Class Song

"Moments to Remember"

January to December,
We'll have MOMENTS TO REMEMBER.

The quiet walks, the noisy fun,
The ball games that we lost and won -
We will have these MOMENTS TO REMEMBER.

The Christmas Dance, the Senior Play,
The friends we made along the way -
We will have these MOMENTS TO REMEMBER.

Though summer turns to winter
And the present disappears,
The laughter we were glad to share
Will echo through the years.

Though other nights and other days
May find us gone our separate ways,
We will have these MOMENTS TO REMEMBER.

Class Poem

This is our school. You are our classmates. We are your seniors. This is our final message to you:

Wisdom, education, and memories
Are what we have gained from you.
Teachers who have guided us and led us
And taught us what to do.

Now we are prepared to be leaders
And to pursue our goal in life.
We will go on and try to advance
In spite of our troubles and strife.

Students, remember us when we have left you,
And gone off to better ourselves.

Don't forget and don't waste a minute -
For soon you will be leaving yourselves.

Juniors, remember and direct the students,
The ones who will follow you.
Be examples and leaders to them
And help them all the way through.

Now heed our advice, fellow friends,
Now that we have shared our thoughts.
Experience has not yet matured us,
But what we have learned, we have sought.

- Beverly Sharp

Congratulations to The Favorites
as selected by
The Student Body
of Southeastern High School
1962-1963

These are our favorites. They are the boys and girls whom Southeastern High School considers the most outstanding for the year 1962-1963. Announced at the Christmas Dance, December 14, the favorites presented here represent different facets of a teenager's personality.

Revealed at the same time are the most beautiful girls and most handsome boys. At SHS each class elects four girls to contend for Most Beautiful. This year the Brothers Four, popular recording artists, chose one girl as Most Beautiful and four runners-up.

These personalities are marked by individuality. But in one respect they are alike; they all possess qualities which make them well liked and respected among their fellow classmates.

Freshman Day

Depicting nursery rhyme characters, the freshmen of SHS lived through the trials and tribulations of initiation on September 28, Freshman Day.

After a day of pushing pennies, blowing balloons, shining shoes, and obeying orders, the lowest of low were rewarded for their sportsmanship and good conduct. That night a date with an upperclassman of their choice confirmed that they had earned the coveted title of "high school students."

"For the last time, girls - who do you think I am? Richard Burton?"

At Kangaroo Kourt Booty saw how low he couldn't go.

Satisfaction is a state of mind produced when one witnesses another person's discomfort.

Student Body Campaign 1962

The campaign for the election of Southeastern High's student body president and vice president always starts the year off with excitement. This year, for the first time in the history of Southeastern High, the president was a Junior, Stanley St. Pierre. Elected vice president was Hunter Dobson, the third Junior ever to hold this office.

Marmaduke leads off the Senior parade with a smile.

"Lynn, we gotta think of some way to brain-wash the student body!"

After the speeches, come posters, parades, entertainment, rallies, campaign parties, and earnest endeavors to persuade, to win! The peak of excitement, the counting of the ballots, once again spells victory for some, disappointment for others. But the end of this campaign is merely the beginning of the next year's as loser and victor alike begin early to dream up new slogans and new tactics.

“High School Hero”

Senior Play

On Thursday, November 15, the Southeastern High Seniors presented "High School Hero," a three-act comedy by Pete Williams. The play is an annual endeavor by each graduating class. Mrs. Hannah Cook, an S.L.C. speech major, directed, under the supervision of Miss Velmarae Dunn. The cast and technical crew's long, hard hours of work proved to be profitable by a successful production.

Christmas Dance

Excitement fills the air as the favorites are announced.

On the evening of Friday, December 14, 1962, the Senior Class succeeded in instilling a festive mood in all who attended the annual Christmas Dance. Enjoying the music and holiday decorations were students of Southeastern High and their guests.

Some people just never stop talking.

The

The band for the night tunes up.

Billowy formals and white sports coats, clowns and memory books - all help to form a beautiful hazy picture in our minds.

Hunter and George stand on the "Karnival float" that graced the entrance to Mardi Gras.

Prom

The royalty of the SHS Mardi Gras.

Upon entering the Student Union on the evening of April 20, one found himself surrounded by the magic of Mardi Gras in old New Orleans. The Junior Class was responsible for giving all who attended a memory not soon to be forgotten - the memory of the night they danced and dreamed at the Mardi Gras.

The traditional presentation of the Seniors - the Krewe of '63.

State Rally

Some of the speech students who ventured forth.

April 5 and 6 were days ending hours of extra study, practice, and coaching. The time and effort spent proved beneficial. Represented by many exceptional students, Southeastern High, class B, placed second in the literary rally and third in the speech rally.

Music students, as well as the speech and literary participants, did their part at LSU.

Junior and Senior girls participate in the Daisy Chain.

Each year the graduating class has its song, poem, will and prophecies. Each year the Daisy Chain is executed with grace and charm, and the Juniors wait impatiently for their rings. May 25, proved 1963 to be no different.

These Juniors proudly "show-off" their new class rings.

Hesitance and happiness - two different reactions to graduation.

On May 28, 1963, the Senior Class of Southeastern High performed its graduation exercises. Smiles, tears, pride, and perhaps reluctance, characterized the ceremonies for the Class of '63.

The 1962-63 cheerleaders proved themselves to be an industrious, spirited group. Throughout the basketball season the Cheerleaders followed the Cubs and led the crowd. Along with the usual pep rallies, badges, and posters, the girls recognized three students for outstanding school spirit. Miss Lucille Carpenter, sponsor, and the cheerleaders are to be commended for their efforts.

Lynn Robinson, John Robinson, Katherine Wasson.

MOST SCHOOL SPIRIT

Katherine Wasson and John Robinson were the students awarded Most School Spirit 1962-63 trophies. Lynn Robinson received Honorable Mention. These three participated in cheers and demonstrated enthusiasm, good sportsmanship, optimism, and cooperation.

The true perfection of man lies, not in what man has, but in what man is . . .
 Nothing should be able to harm a man but himself. Nothing should be able to rob a Color-splashed change.

Autumn always comes. Transition demands that the old must die. Southeastern, like life, realizes that a part of her must die . . . to give life to the new. And like leaves, her traditions drop one by one and fade from the campus scene. Juniors - Seniors . . . Elections . . . Christmas Dance . . . Concerts . . . Spring Prom . . . Senior Day . . . Graduation. Transition turns them over. For a moment we see them with crimson, golden memories from our hearts that hang on to the old, the familiar. September, another year beginning, steals them from us suddenly, and we can feel the winds of change blowing.

"To a Successful Future"

From

FRIEND

The codfish lays ten thousand eggs,

The homely hen lays one.

The codfish never cackles

To tell you what she's done.

And so we scorn the codfish,

While the humble hen we prize,

Which only goes to show you

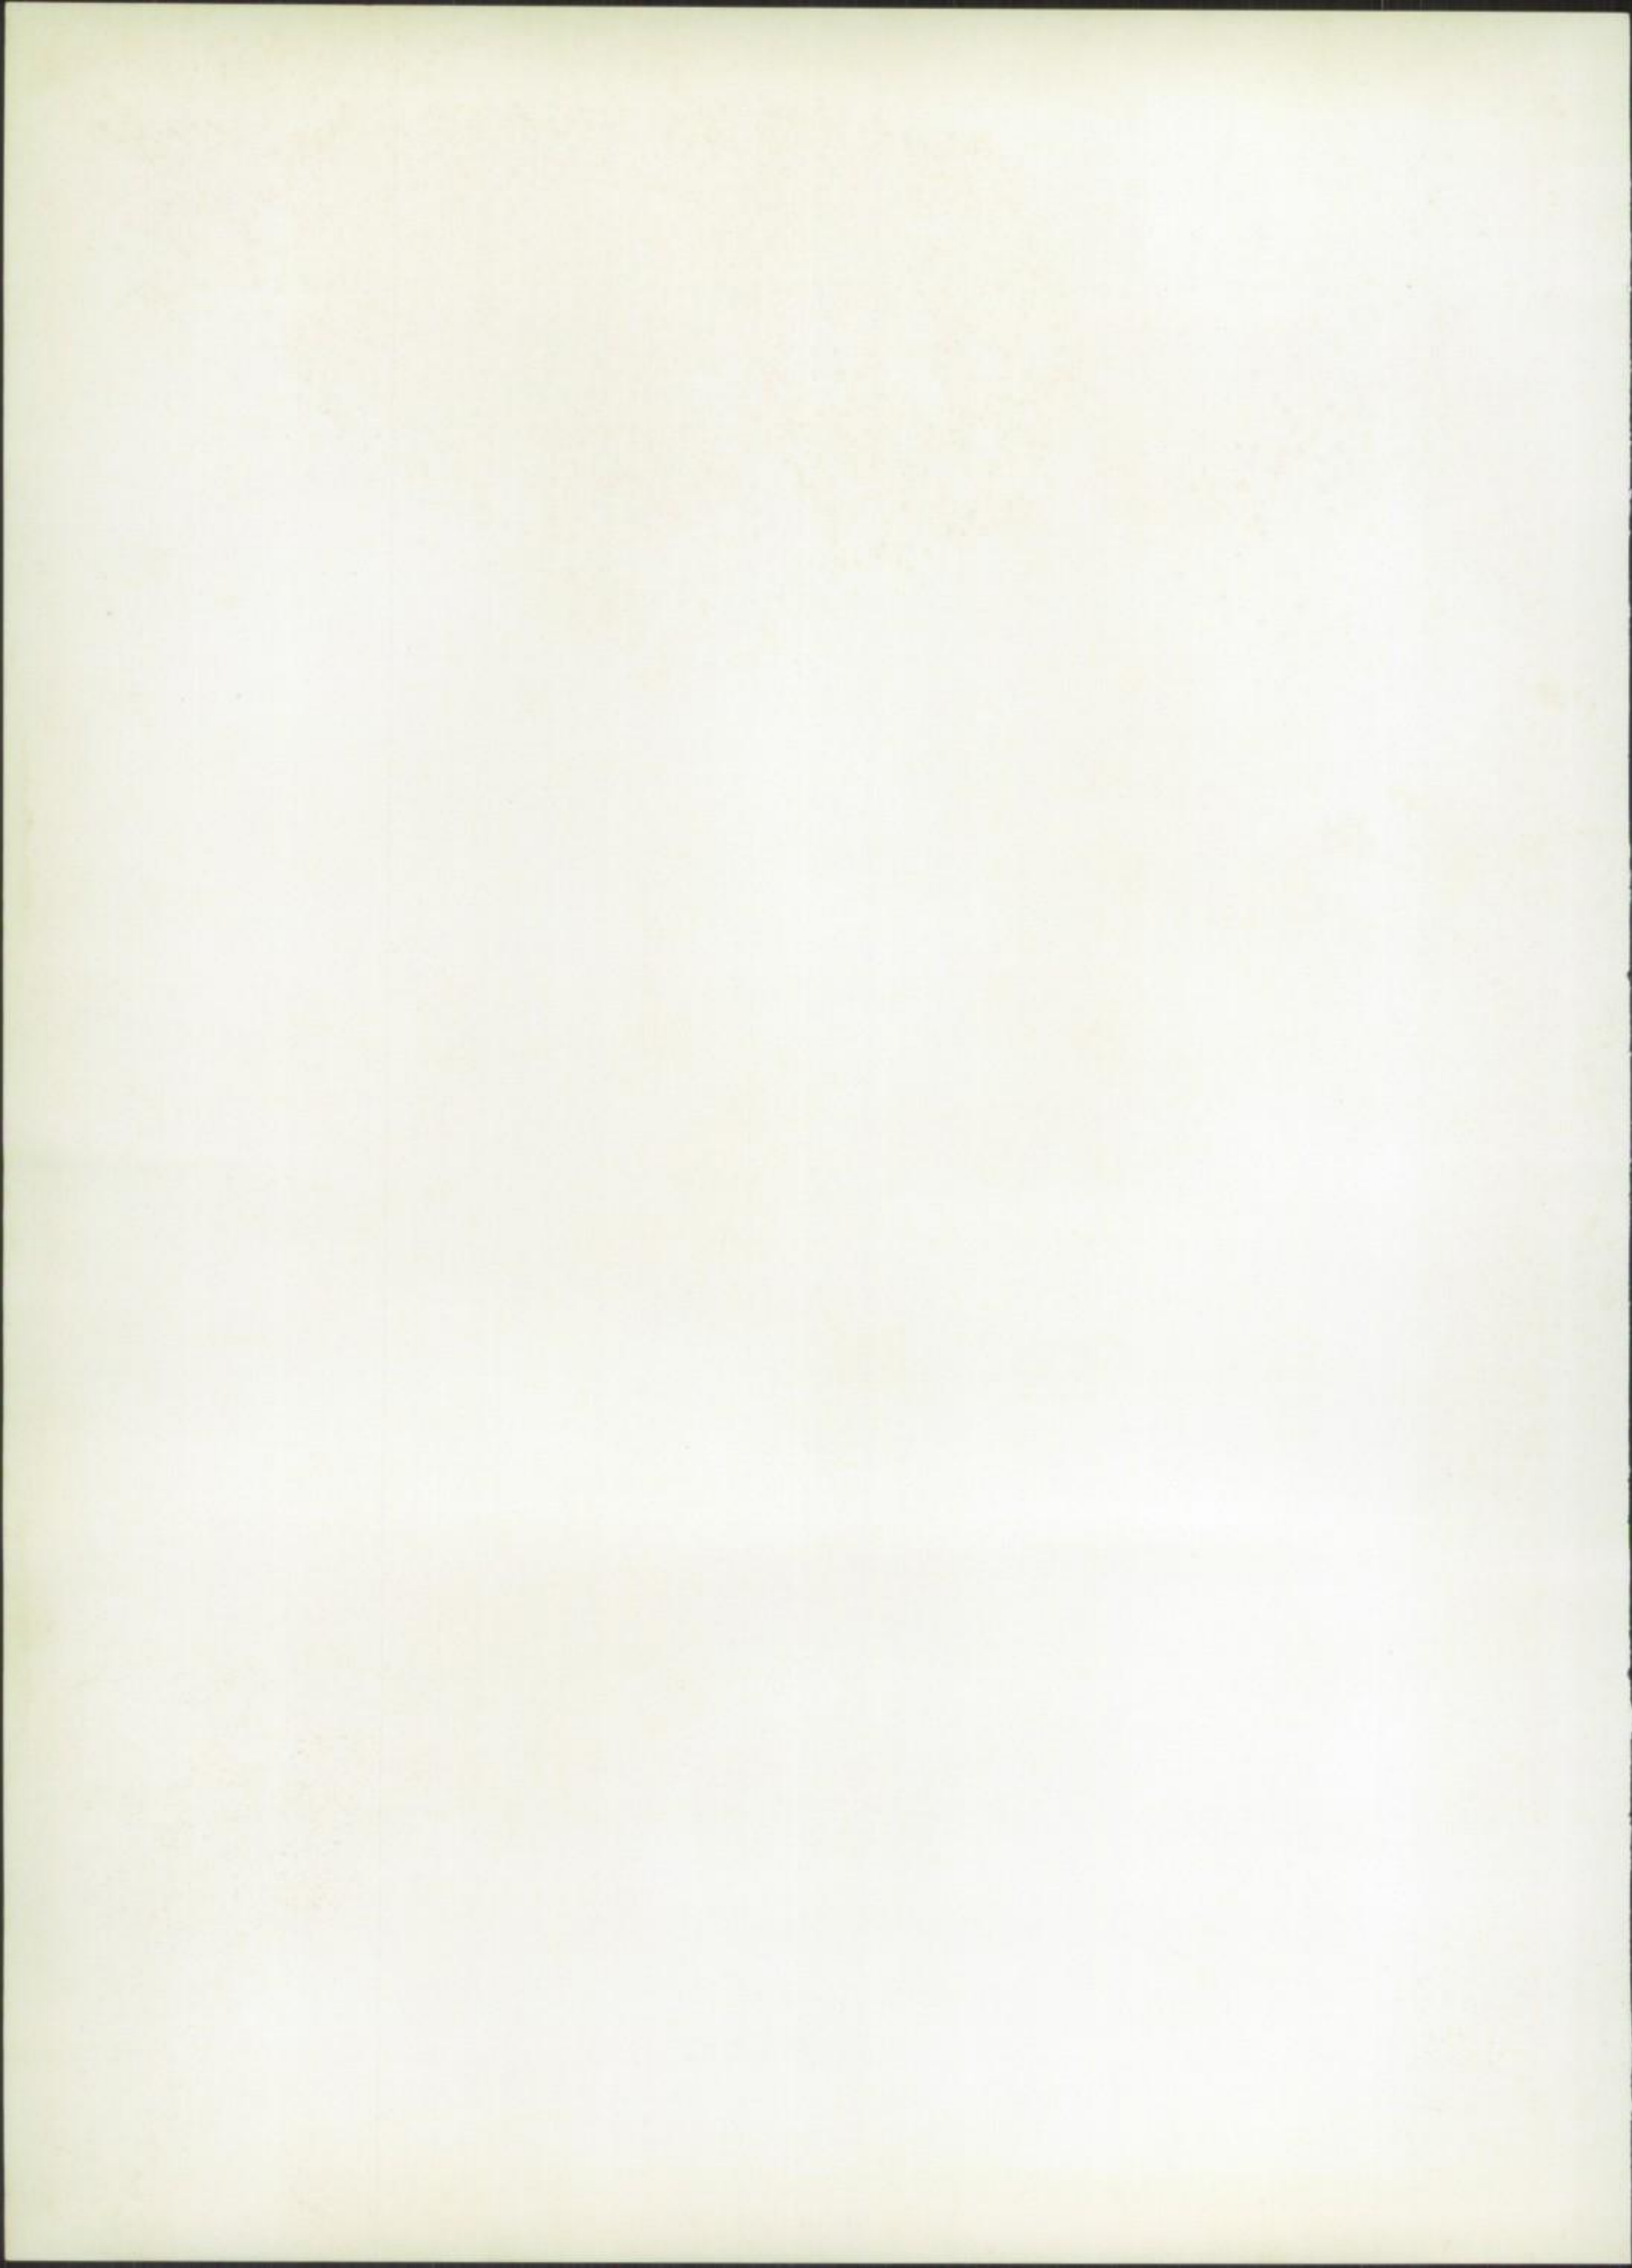

That IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.
